

The 'soft c' sound

1. Circle the 'soft c' in each of the words below.

A 'soft c' is one that sounds like an 's'.

cancel

convince conceal

concept

cycle

icicle

circus

succeed

2. Circle the correct spelling of each word to complete these sentences.

It's my birthday, so I'm having a trampolining tournament to celebrate / selebrate.

The wicked witch turned the princess / prinsess into a puffer fish.

It was Sunday and Chris still had an immence / immense pile of homework to do.

A judge has to look at all the evidence / evidence before making a decision.

To make brownies, you start by melting some butter in a saucepan / sausepan.

You shouldn't wear other people's best socks without their concent / consent.

3. Complete each sentence by filling in the missing word.

Each missing word has a 'soft c' sound in it.

When you first meet someone you should i..... yourself.

Andrew likes to drink sprout j..... with his breakfast.

My mum says that my brother is a bad i..... on me.

I haven't seen my friends r..... - they've all been too busy.

It's important to do lots of e..... to stay fit and healthy.

The 'hard c' sound

1. Circle the words where the 'hard c' sound is spelt incorrectly.
Write the correct spellings in the box.

A 'hard c' is one that sounds like a 'k'.

kandle

crokodile

crying

kettle

kracked

eko

cemistry

cackle

ankor

--

2. Write each of these words in a sentence.

character
keyboard
ache
track
chaos

3. Work out the answers to these clues. All the words contain a 'hard c' sound.

A young cat.
Somebody who fixes cars.
The room in the house where you cook.
The place children go to learn.
You use this to tell the time.

