

Mixed Spellings Proofreading

Can you highlight the spelling mistakes in the sentences below?
Rewrite the full sentence with the correct spellings.
The first sentence has been done for you.

Example:

Every mourning, my relyible coworker helps build my confidance at my new job.
Every morning, my reliable co-worker helps build my confidence at my new job.

These questions have 4 spelling mistakes each.

1. The ruff stone walls of the casle let in a terrable draft.

.....
.....

2. Amber couldn't beleive she had managed the huge clime, but her hesitency to abseil back down was undeniible.

.....
.....

3. The desin of the room looks remarkably spacious despite the low cieling.

.....
.....

4. He bort some spetial edable glitter to add to the lustious cupcakes.

.....
.....

5. I advice you to lisen now because my tolerence is running out and I won't reexplain these instructions.

.....
.....

Mixed Spellings Proofreading

Can you find 5 spelling mistakes in these sentences?

6. To acheive this cemical reaction, it is crutial that you cooperate with your partner and be caucious.

.....
.....

7. The referree had an enjoyable football practise althow he was left exhausted.

.....
.....

8. Desert is my preferred course, especially if a delitious cookie doh is offered.

.....
.....

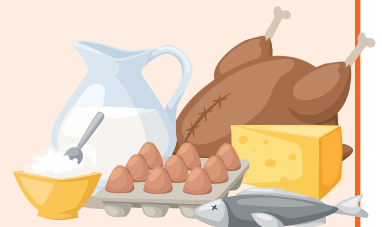

Beware - one of the misspelt words in these sentences is an exception word. Can you spot it? Why do you think it is an exception word?

9. I do not percieve him to be malitious, but he is noticibly disobediant.

.....
.....

Exception word:

10. When planning a nutritious meal, you should include a substancial amount of protien if your goal is to build musle.

.....
.....

Exception word:

Mixed Spellings Proofreading

Answers

Can you highlight the spelling mistakes in the sentences below?
Rewrite the full sentence with the correct spellings.
The first sentence has been done for you.

Example:

Every mourning, my relyible coworker helps build my confidance at my new job.
Every morning, my reliable co-worker helps build my confidence at my new job.

These questions have 4 spelling mistakes each.

1. The ruff stone walls of the casle let in a terrable draft.

The rough stone walls of the castle let in a terrible draught.

2. Amber couldn't beleive she had managed the huge clime, but her hesitancy to abseil back down was undeniible.

Amber couldn't believe she had managed the huge climb, but her hesitancy to abseil back down was undeniable.

3. The desin of the room looks remarkibly spacious despite the low cieling.

The design of the room looks remarkably spacious despite the low ceiling.

4. He bort some spetal edable glitter to add to the lustious cupcakes.

He bought some special edible glitter to add to the luscious cupcakes.

5. I advice you to lisen now because my tolerence is running out and I won't reexplain these instructions.

I advise you to listen now because my tolerance is running out and I won't re-explain these instructions.

Mixed Spellings Proofreading

Answers

Can you find 5 spelling mistakes in these sentences?

6. To acheive this cemical reaction, it is crutial that you cooperate with your partner and be caucious.

To achieve this chemical reaction, it is crucial that you co-operate with your partner and be cautious.

7. The referree had an enjoyable football practise althow he was left exhausted.

The referee had an enjoyable football practice although he was left exhausted.

8. Desert is my prefered course, especially if a delituous cookie doh is offered.

Dessert is my preferred course, especially if a delicious cookie dough is offered.

Beware - one of the misspelt words in these sentences is an exception word. Can you spot it? Why do you think it is an exception word?

9. I do not percieve him to be malitious, but he is noticeably disobediant.

I do not perceive him to be malicious, but he is noticeably disobedient.

Exception word: noticeably

10. When planning a nutricious meal, you should include a substancial amount of protien if your goal is to build musle.

When creating a nutritious meal, you should include a substantial amount of protein if your goal is to build muscle.

Exception word: protein

