

An example of brooches recently made by children at a school.

An example of brooches made from foil, string and decorative items.

You could use pens or paint to colour in. Or you could just fold and twist foil to make some of the intricate designs shown above.

If you're really stuck on what to use then you can draw a diagram of your brooch and label the materials you'd like to use to make it. Remember to neatly colour in any drawings.
