In this tutorial, you will learn a great technique to help create exciting, original patterns using simple shapes.

One of the keys to a successful artwork is giving yourself simple rules to beat distraction and help guide your ideas.

This lesson will help you do that, taking away any artist block you may be facing.

This lesson is fun and easy but always effective and produces amazing results. Oh, and its cheap, low mess and low stress.

This activity will help:

- Build confidence
- Build cutting skills
- Build composition skills
- Build decision making skills
- Build understanding of colour science

If you are looking for artists to link to this activity then I would look for the artists:

- Sonia Delaunay
- Robert Delaunay
- Beatriz Milhazes
- Wassily Kandinsky
- Damien Hirst
- Ian Davenport.

Have fun and please send us a picture of your finished artwork – we'd love to see it! 😊
