

Little Muddy Boots

We finished our half term theme of nature with some special visitors.

The children arrived at the BOLE and were greeted by Hannah and Karen from Little Muddy Boots. They were put into pairs and each pair was given a card with the name of a bird and details of what they like to eat, so off the children went to fill their little pots with worms, insects and berries. After much searching they were ready to do a show and tell to the rest of the children of what they had found.

The birds were going to have full bellies as the children made 'bird pizzas' and left them around the BOLE ready for the birds to eat for their dinner. They also made pine cone feeders to take home and feed the birds in their own gardens too.

After identifying birds and listening to recordings of their various distinctive songs, the children sat down for a story. As they listened to the story the birds responded by merrily chirping away in the trees (much to the children's delight). As this cheerful sound was heard, the children looked across and saw that the sunset (made up of numerous shades of orange) had created a beautiful backdrop for the school and the whole experience.

"That was the best time ever." said a year two child as we walked out of the B.O.L.E.
